

BENEFICIARY APPLICATION FOR IRA DISTRIBUTIONS

Complete this Beneficiary Application for IRA Distributions if you are a beneficiary with respect to a Traditional IRA or Roth IRA administered by Pension Fund of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), in order to direct Pension Fund as to how to pay your inherited account. Unless already on file with Pension Fund, you must also complete and return with this Application a Beneficiary Verification Form and supporting documentation.

If you are a surviving spouse who is designated as the beneficiary of a Traditional IRA or Roth IRA, you may instead redesignate the IRA in your own name by completing the Spousal Inherited IRA Designation Form, in which case you may request distributions from the IRA under the rules that apply to IRA owners.

You are required by law to begin taking minimum distributions (RMDs) from your inherited account within certain time periods that begin no earlier than the calendar year following the calendar year of the IRA owner's death. The rules that apply to you depend on your beneficiary classification and whether the deceased IRA owner was receiving RMDs at his or her death. If you do not timely begin RMDs, you must pay a significant excise tax on the difference between your RMD and any distributions actually made to you.

If you do not direct Pension Fund on how to make payment of your inherited account, Pension Fund will follow the RMD default payment schedule that applies to your beneficiary classification. Please see the attached Explanation of IRA Distribution Options for Beneficiaries for more information regarding the options available under the IRA.

☐ $ _____ from the inherited IRA account.

- ☐ _____ % of the inherited IRA account (non-individual beneficiaries are required to take a 100% distribution).
- ☐ Amounts that satisfy the RMD rules in accordance with Pension Fund's RMD default payment schedule, based on my beneficiary classification (see attached RMD Default Payment Schedule).

I understand that my election is irrevocable with respect to any distribution once it is paid. I further understand that my election for installment payments or RMD payments will remain in effect unless I complete a new Application or revoke this election. Lastly, I understand that my form of distribution must comply with applicable required minimum distribution rules.

IV. FEDERAL AND STATE INCOME TAX WITHHOLDING RULES

Federal Withholding. Default federal withholding rates apply to distributions made from your inherited IRA.

- Pension Fund will withhold 10% from the amount of the distribution from an inherited Traditional IRA paid to you or transferred to a Roth IRA [no withholding applies to transfers to another traditional IRA or direct payments to an accepting employer plan].
- You are not subject to federal or state income taxes on qualified distributions made to you from an inherited Roth IRA. However, Pension Fund will withhold 10% on earnings on non-qualified distributions made to you from an inherited Roth IRA [no withholding applies to transfers to another Roth IRA].

You may elect to change your default withholding rates (within IRS limits) by completing a Form W-4R, Withholding Certificate for Nonperiodic Payments and Eligible Rollover Distributions. To access this form, see www.pensionfund.org. For installment payments, your election will remain in effect until you submit a new Form W-4R making a new election. You may submit a new Form W-4R at any time, and it will be effective the first day of the next month that falls at least 30 days after the completed Form W-4R is received by Pension Fund.

State Withholding. Unless you have a current state income tax withholding election in place, you will need to complete a state tax withholding certificate for your state of residence. If you live in a state that mandates state income tax withholding, Pension Fund will withhold the required amount. For more information regarding the withholding requirements of your state of residence, see www.pensionfund.org.

Indicate your state of tax residence (if different than your home address in Section II) _____.

V. ELECTIONS FOR PAYMENT OF DISTRIBUTION/TRANSFER

The amount elected under Section III will be sent directly to you, unless you elect a transfer to another IRA, a direct payment to an accepting employer plan, or a transfer to your BA account with Pension Fund. A transfer from a Traditional IRA to a Roth IRA is a taxable event (a "conversion"). Amounts from a Roth IRA may only transfer to another Roth IRA.

- If you are a non-spouse beneficiary, you may request a transfer of your IRA to another IRA that retains the status of an inherited IRA.
- If you are a surviving spouse beneficiary, you may elect a transfer of all or a portion of the IRA to an IRA in your own name, or, for an inherited Traditional IRA, you may elect a direct payment of all or a portion of the IRA to an accepting employer plan. If you elect a cash payment, you may still transfer (roll over) your distribution to an accepting employer plan or IRA within 60 days of receipt of your distribution. NOTE: Roth IRAs and nondeductible contributions to a Traditional IRA are not eligible for transfer to an employer plan, whether by direct payment or 60-day rollover.

EXPLANATION OF IRA DISTRIBUTION OPTIONS FOR BENEFICIARIES

If you are a designated beneficiary of a deceased IRA owner, Pension Fund will establish an inherited IRA in your name with the portion of the owner's account balance that belongs to you. You have the following options with respect to your inherited IRA:

- Lump Sum Payments.

You may elect a one-time payment of a specific dollar amount or percentage of the inherited IRA. If the lump sum payment represents the entire inherited IRA, no further distributions will be made to you. You may receive the distribution as a cash payment, or you may elect to transfer the distribution to an eligible employer plan or another IRA. However, any portion of the distribution required to satisfy the required minimum distribution (RMD) rules may not be rolled over.

If you are a beneficiary other than the surviving spouse, the only transfer option that you have is a transfer to an inherited IRA (meaning you cannot transfer to an IRA in your own name). An inherited IRA is established in the name of the IRA owner for your benefit. You are required to take distributions from an inherited IRA under the required minimum distribution rules that apply to beneficiaries.

- Installment Payments.

You may elect monthly installment payments over a period of up to ten years from your inherited IRA. Distributions are paid pursuant to the installment schedule until the inherited IRA is fully depleted. You may receive the distribution as a cash payment, or, if the installments are paid for a period of less than ten years, you may elect to transfer the distribution to an eligible employer plan or another IRA. However, any portion of the distribution required to satisfy the required minimum distribution (RMD) rules may not be rolled over.

If you are a beneficiary other than the surviving spouse, the only transfer option that you have is a transfer to an inherited IRA (meaning you cannot transfer to an IRA in your own name). An inherited IRA is established in the name of the IRA owner for your benefit. You are required to take distributions from an inherited IRA under the required minimum distribution rules that apply to beneficiaries.

- Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) Payments.

You may elect to receive payments in amounts that satisfy the RMD rules in accordance with Pension Fund's RMD default payment schedule. The default payment schedule applicable to you will depend on your beneficiary classification, which is described in more detail on the following page. Amounts paid under the RMD rules are not eligible for rollover, and you will receive the distributions as cash payments. If you elect this option, you may elect to receive additional distributions from your inherited IRA earlier and in greater amounts than the distributions that would occur under the default schedule by completing a new Beneficiary Application for IRA Distributions.

In the event of your death before you receive the entire balance of your inherited IRA, the remaining balance will be paid to your designated beneficiary (or if none, to your estate).

In all cases when the beneficiary is not an individual (e.g., charity, estate, trust), Pension Fund defaults to making a one-time payment of the entire inherited IRA as soon as administratively feasible following the owner's death. A trustee or representative of the non-individual beneficiary that wishes to delay payment of the IRA should contact Pension Fund.
